Dr. Annik Adamson

Dr. Annik Adamson was raised in Indiana and has lived in Northern Virginia for the past 25 years. She received her undergraduate degree at Indiana University, Bloomington and her medical education at the Dr. William M. Scholl College of Podiatric Medicine in Chicago, Illinois. She completed her post-doctorate training in podiatric surgery at the Washington Hospital Center in Washington, DC in 1992. She has over 20 years of private practice experience here in Alexandria, Virginia. She is a past president of the Virginia Podiatric Medical Association. She is board certified in foot surgery by the American Board of Foot and Ankle Surgery. She is a Fellow of the American College of Foot and Ankle Surgeons. She is on the active staff of INOVA Alexandria Hospital. She is experienced in forefoot and rearfoot surgery as well as sports medicine. She enjoys treating many common foot conditions including bunions, hammertoes, heel pain, sports injuries, ingrown nails, warts, and foot problems associated with diabetes. She is passionate about preventative medicine and often participates in health fairs to better educate the public regarding the foot and ankle.

Dr Adamson resides in Annandale, Virginia with her family and two dogs. She is an avid lover of the outdoors where she enjoys hiking, biking, fishing, and boating. She is fluent in french and loves to travel.
